Below Left: Elo Kafe da Nova, the Champion of Champions.

Center: Conformation Judging for the Championship
Front horse is Impossivel da Mandassaia who won his age group.

In attendance at the National Show were: Susan Neumann, Lynn Kelley, John Kelley and Tresa Smith. This year's show had a similar format to previous year's shows. There is a hint of change coming from the sport competitions also being held in team penning, pole bending and obstacle courses. The Marcha Picada classes show an increasing number of entries and we met several breeders who now focus only on Marcha Picada horses.

The 2005 champion horses show much more of a mix of backgrounds, new blood and represent many new boutique farms. In the U.S., some of these winning bloodlines are present. The Marcha Picada champion mares all had a strong Herdade (Cadillac) background. This bloodline is represented well by the Guerra (MM Horse Farms) line (American Boy, Batuque, Bom Bom, Bossa Nova, Chanel, Ciranda, Estanho, Folha etal). The Marcha Picada stallions show the mix of bloodlines with no one line dominating. Brilhante Sael, the marcha winner has Tabatinga breeding (Lazy T, Rancho de Los Cielos, Summerwind). Champion mare Laterna da Boa Fe's sire is LaGloria Embarie, Seamus da Boa Fe's sire (Summerwind). Invicta de Malta is strong Favacho and Tabatinga lines (Lazy T, Rancho de los Cielos, Summerwind). The champion stallion was a pampa (pinto) now featured in many magazine ads. LJ and Ogar lines, the champion sires are represented at Summerwind. The champion mare reproducer ,Maira da Mairiflor, shares a grandsire with Ninja at Rancho de los Cielos.
